- Inmates eligible and interested in a program may submit an Inmate Request Form in order to register for a specific class or program.
- Dependent upon the housing location, classification, and disciplinary status, inmates may or may not be eligible to participate in a program.
- Classes are subject to change due to operational issues and demand.
- Certificates are awarded upon completion and may be used in court to show active program involvement while in custody.
- Regular attendance is required.
- The court has the option of sentencing inmates to programs offered by the Orange County Corrections Department.

PROGRAMS ASSESSMENT

Orientation: During the orientation, male and female inmates are informed about all programs and services offered at Orange County Corrections. Inmates are able to make program requests while they are in the Booking and Release Center or once they arrive in their permanent housing location. Additionally, information on voting, voter registration, and absentee ballots are made available to the inmates.

Assessment: The goal of the assessment and orientation process is to determine the programmatic needs of the inmate while incarcerated at Orange County Corrections. Eligible inmates are given the Michigan Alcohol Screening Test (MAST), the Drug Assessment Screening Test (DAST) and the PROXY risk assessment to determine their possible risk of re-offending. Inmates are consequently moved by the Classification Unit according to their program requests and/or program recommendations and placed into different programs.
